With truly exceptional training courses, Training Services prepare you to leverage the power and sophistication of Presagis software solutions. Training from Presagis gives you the knowledge, experience and best practices necessary for achieving success on any project. Courses are available across all product categories, including Visualization, Content Creation, HMI, and Simulation, at a Presagis office location, or on-site. The goal of Presagis Training Services is to provide comprehensive knowledge transfer and to guarantee customer satisfaction.

Presagis Trainers have extensive experience in the modeling and simulation industry. Focusing on high-quality content, clear delivery, and consistent follow-up, the courses help you to unlock your potential and realize even greater value from your Presagis software solutions.

Applied training for maximum effectiveness

Unlike other theory-based training courses, Presagis Training Services not only teaches you how to use software but also to create real-world content, and to develop actual applications. By 'doing' and not just 'seeing', your trainer will help you acquire and apply knowledge immediately.

Tailored training to meet your specific requirements

Presagis Trainers customize training to address your specific program needs. Presagis training solutions include a combination of lecture, demonstration, step-by-step, tutorials, hands-on, self-assessment, and new training technologies, including web and distance learning. Depending on your specific requirements, the trainer may use one or several different techniques to provide the most effective training.

Total customer satisfaction - our only measure for success

We know that effective training is key to helping you get the most value from your software investment. Presagis prides itself on being a benchmark for software training and is committed to offering the most valuable training possible.
